NYC Campaign Finance Board Approves Pre-Primary Matching Funds Payments to 2025 Candidates

05/12/2025

May 12, 2025 – Today, the NYC Campaign Finance Board (CFB) voted to approve public matching funds payments for the June primaries totaling $4,402,799 to 28 candidates for the 2025 elections. This payment is the sixth payment of the 2025 election cycle. Today's payment determinations were based on corrections made to disclosure statement #8. Payments based on disclosure statement #9 will be made later this month.

In today's meeting the Board also voted on post-election public funds payments to 2 candidates in a 2025 special election and non-payment determinations for participating candidates who have not yet demonstrated eligibility to receive a public funds payment, as of today's meeting. Candidates not receiving public funds in today's payment can demonstrate their eligibility for a future payment. After today, there are two additional payment dates before the primary election in June 2025, and five payment dates before the general election in November 2025. Lastly, the Board ratified the Chair's decision to deny a 7-09 petition from the Eric Adams 2025 campaign, after they appealed the Board's April 15th no-pay decision.

The Board made a brief statement regarding today's payment to the Andrew Cuomo 2025 campaign:

"Based on the preliminary results of our investigation, the Board has reason to believe Fix the City's $622,056 expenditure for an ad distributed on May 4, 2025 was not independent of the Cuomo campaign. CFB rules state that the Board may determine an expenditure was not independent if the 'entity making the expenditure has utilized strategic information or data.... [that] has been made publicly available by the candidate in a manner which the candidate ... knew or should have known would facilitate such utilization' — a practice known as 'redboxing'. Expenditures coordinated with a campaign are considered in-kind contributions that undercut New York City's strict spending and contribution limits, which are in place to ensure voters, not big money, decide elections," said Board Member Richard Davis. "When there is reason to believe a candidate has received an impermissible contribution, the Board may withhold the amount of that contribution from a public funds payment. As such, the Board will withhold public funds in the amount of the expenditure, $622,056. The Board's investigation into this matter is ongoing, and we will continue to evaluate the issue of improper coordination. This amount also counts towards the campaign's spending limit for the June primary."

New York City's matching funds program eliminates barriers to participation by providing access to resources New Yorkers in every community can use to run for office. The candidates receiving payment today have met all the requirements of the Campaign Finance Act and Board Rules, have at least one opponent, and achieved a threshold level of public support by raising small-dollar contributions from the city residents they are seeking to represent.

Please visit the CFB website to find information on the two-part threshold candidates must meet to qualify for public funds, as well as additional information on the legal requirements to qualify for public funds.

The table below lists all candidates who have received a public funds pre-primary payment for the 2025 and a post-election public funds payment for the 2025B election.

DISCLOSURE AND PAYMENT CALENDAR

Candidates in the 2025 New York City elections filed their disclosures with the CFB on March 17th. The above payments are based on campaign financial data provided by this deadline. The next filing disclosure reports are due May 23rd.

HOW THE CAMPAIGN FINANCE PROGRAM WORKS

The CFB provides matching funds out of the city's General Fund to qualifying candidates at a rate of $8 for every $1 received from New York City residents, up to the first $175 for donations to City Council candidates and $250 for citywide offices.

To qualify for matching funds, candidates must demonstrate support from within their communities by meeting a two-part fundraising threshold and abide by the other requirements set in the Campaign Finance Act. For instance, to qualify for public funding in City Council races, candidates must raise at least $5,000 from city residents. Only the first $175 contributed per city resident counts towards meeting the threshold. Additionally, City Council candidates must receive at least 75 contributions from residents of the district where they are running. Candidates also must comply with all program rules, including individual contribution limits and a prohibition on collecting contributions from corporations, limited liability companies, and partnerships.

CANDIDATE SERVICES

The CFB's Candidate Services staff offers candidates extensive support by providing access to trainings, resources, and one-on-one guidance to help campaigns navigate their disclosure requirements and compliance obligations. For the 2025 elections, the agency published a detailed guidance documents with the payment schedule, requirements, and applicable deadlines for candidates to follow.

FOLLOW THE MONEY

More information about the candidates' campaign finance data is available on the CFB website in the Campaign Finance Summary portal. Individual contributions, campaign spending, intermediaries, and independent PAC expenditures are available in the CFB's Follow the Money database.
